POLICE RECEIVE INSTRUCTION IN CIVILIAN DEFENSE

Chief Jones and Detective Russo Attend Classes In Philadelphia

HELD TWO DAYS

Instructions Were Illustrated and Given By the F. B. I.

After two days of intensive instruction, in Philadelphia, by F. B. I. experts, in Civilian National Defense, Chief of Police Linton J. Jones and Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo received today, along with 350 Chiefs of Police and other high ranking police officials of Eastern Pennsylvania, a certificate denoting completion of the course.

This session was one of the first in this section of the country by the F. B. I. following the designation of that organization, by Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, United States Director of Civilian Defense, as the official police training agency. The two-day course was crammed from beginning to end with instructions regarding the problems which the police of London and other English metropolitan cities have met and coped with. Motion pictures depicting the fires, explosions, and other hazards which the civilian population of England are constantly faced with were flashed upon the motion picture screen at frequent intervals to better illustrate the various dangers the civilian populations are forced to undergo.

Director of Public Safety James J. Malone, of Philadelphia, opened the session by welcoming all police officers and by praising the co-operation of all police agencies in this present period of National Emergency.

Mayor Samuel also welcomed the attending officers, stating "We cannot underestimate the potential dangers which may be inflicted upon unprotected cities, especially in this section of the State, where we are handling over one-sixth of the nation's defense orders."

Dr. H. R. Owen, chairman of the Philadelphia Defense Council, stated, "In times like this, it is the duty of every citizen to forget his political ties and support his Government policies. Much good has come out of this war, horrible as it is; cities and local communities are beginning to study the solution of their mutual problems, and can best be illustrated by this mutual gathering of police officers from all over the eastern section of Pennsylvania to help and advise each other in the common defense," commenting upon the motion pictures which had

Shoots A 14-Lb. Wildcat At Washington Crossing

NEW HOPE, Nov. 8.—A 14-pound wildcat was shot by Webster Ueberroth, guard of Washington Crossing Park at the Neeley's Mill and Bowman Hill area, Wednesday night.

Ueberroth said that some campers in the section during the past summer had reported that screeches and yowls were left out by animals in the area, but little attention was paid to the reports. But a week ago one of the wildcats jumped from underbrush as he passed, and showed fight. He shot at the animal, wounding it. The one killed this week is thought to be a mate of the one wounded.

Britain Makes Heaviest Attack Yet On Berlin

London, Nov. 8.—Britain's air force unleashed the heaviest attack of the entire war on Berlin and other sections of Germany last night and early today—but at the cost of 37 RAF bombers.

An official announcement said a majority of the plane losses were caused by forced landings resulting from what RAF pilots described as "deadly" weather over Germany and France.

Great squadrons of RAF planes, including many giant four-motored Stirlings capable of carrying huge bomb loads, levelled smashing attacks on the Reich. They concentrated on Berlin and vital targets in the Rhineland. Germany claimed 19 British bombers were shot down last night.

Berlin, Cologne, Mannheim and the Ruhr district were the assigned targets on which the British aircraft poured their bombs.

(Note: Other British bombers attacked objectives ranging from Scandinavia to Southern Italy. The Italian high command announced 40 persons were killed in a sharp attack on the port of Brindisi.)

A Swedish radio broadcast said British planes flew over Oslo Fjord in Norway this morning and dropped a few bombs near the Akershus fortress without causing damage.

Full reports showed that while Berlin was reached and bombed in a severe thunder storm, the RAF scored its greatest successes in the Ruhr. There a large number of bombs of the heaviest caliber were dropped and direct hits reported. Still other squadrons hammered the docks of Boulogne on the German-occupied French coast, and enemy waters were mined from the air.

SELLERSVILLE COUNCIL HAS BIDS ON LIGHTS

Proposed Traffic Lights To Be Placed When Traffic Meets From Five Directions

FOUR KILLED RECENTLY

SELLERSVILLE, Nov. 8.—Borough council has received bids on the erection of a proposed traffic light system at the intersection of Diamond, South Main streets, and Park avenue.

For a number of years the question of placing such lights somewhere in the borough was under discussion. Borough Council had wanted to erect such a light, but the State Highway Department would not consent because Route 309, which is Main street in the borough would thus have its traffic slowed up considerably. But that is what Council wants, because it feared for years that some accident might take place in or near town. A month ago the crash came. Two cars met head on and killed four men, injuring three more. Now Sellersville will get its lights, for it has received approval of the State.

At the dangerous intersection, where vehicles can approach from five directions, as well as from the driveways of three gas stations at once, the signals are to be placed. There will be seven lights and five posts of the low type such as were recently put on Route 309 at Quakertown. Bids were received from Novelty Electric Co., Philadelphia; General Electric Co., Schenectady; Signal Service Co., Elizabeth, N. J.; Sellersville Electric Co., Thomas Gannon, Philadelphia. The prices quoted range from $578.34 to $848.95.

Sellersville also succeeded in persuading the State Department of Highways that a light would be needed on South Main street near the entrance of 309 to the borough quite some time ago. There a blinker was erected overhead, but not until there were numerous accidents on that dangerous spot where the roadway slants the wrong way on a gradual curve near Grandview avenue.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT
(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

The Republicans

Washington, Nov. 6. IF the Republicans in Congress had started out with the idea of making for themselves at this session as ignoble and unworthy a record as possible, they already would have achieved a considerable measure of success.

For, certainly, it is true that in matters of strategy and statesmanship they have sunk to a very low level.

IN fact, it is not easy to see how they can go much lower. The stupidity of their attitude on foreign policy is matched only by their stupidity on domestic policies. In the foreign field, where the President's course is approved by the people, they have resisted nearly every step, and almost produced a major disaster by party solidarity against the extension of the selective draft. In the domestic field, where the President is remiss and unsound, they have supported his position and interfered with the effort to avert a threatened inflation. In brief, they oppose Mr. Roosevelt when he is right and support him when he is wrong.

AND in both cases they clearly have been inspired not by principle but by the kind of small politics, bad enough in normal times but inexcusable in a crisis such as this. The latest example of the warped Republican intellect is the manner in which the party membership appears to be lining up in the House against inclusion in the price-control legislation of any power to regulate wages or food prices. There is every reason the Republicans should take the exact opposite position. In the first place, it is the right position. As well as Mr. Roosevelt and his Administration politicians they know that there can be no effective price control unless

SANTA CLAUS TO ARRIVE HERE ON DECEMBER 1ST

Mill Street Business Men Receive Telegram From North Pole

PLAN FOR HIS VISIT

Monday evening, December 1st, promises to be a very important date for the youngsters . . . and oldsters . . . of Bristol and vicinity this year, for this is the date that the jolly old bewiskered gent from the North Pole is scheduled to make his annual trip to this town.

This information was made public Thursday evening when the members of the Mill Street Business Men's Association met at Cordora's Restaurant for their regular monthly meeting. David Norman, chairman of the Christmas decoration committee told the large group of business men present that he had received a telegram from Santa stating that he would arrive in Bristol on the evening of December 1st.

The telegram, addressed to the Mill Street Business Men's Association, was very brief and did not give the details of arrival. It simply stated: "Gentlemen—I will arrive in Bristol on the evening of December 1st. Expect to spend considerable time with my little friends in your town. Am very busy at present in my work shops at the North Pole getting ready for my annual Christmas visit. Will wire more detailed plans at a later date. Signed, Santa Claus."

As a result of this information members of the Association last evening began an intensive program of street decorations and lighting for the arrival of Santa.

Numerous suggestions were heard and plans made for the coming holiday season. Members of the Christmas Decoration committee include: Dave Norman, chairman; J. S. Lynn, I. Wolson, A. H. Queen, Leon Plavin, S. Friedman, R. C. Weik, Ed Wallace, Al Mollo, Morry Gelman, and Edward Gallagher. Abe Popkin was named to head the Publicity Committee for the Christmas program.

37 SOLDIERS CAST VOTES

Tie Vote for Burgess of Tullytown Remains the Same

The official count of the ballots cast Tuesday at the General Election failed to break the tie in the vote cast for Burgess at Tullytown.

There was one soldier from Tullytown who mailed his ballot but he failed to vote for the local ticket, marking his ballot for the county ticket only.

While no official announcement has been made it is believed that the two candidates for Burgess at Tullytown, J. W. Miller, D., and Harold E. Roberts, R., will draw to break the tie.

The official count did, however, increase the Republican majority due to ballots received from soldiers, located in various military camps.

The highest vote was polled by Homer S. Wentz, R., candidate for prothonotary who received a total vote of 19,111 while his opponent, Harriet Hancock, D., received 9,862, making the majority of the Republican candidate 9,249.

There were 34 Republican ballots and three Democratic ballots received from soldiers and these were mailed from 12 different states.

The official count required three hours and the same length of time was required to record the vote.

"Finger-Printing" Subject Of Talk Before Sorosis

LANGHORNE, Nov. 8.—Corporal Clemmens of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, addressed members of the Sorosis, Thursday afternoon, on the subject of "Finger-printing."

The speaker, introduced by Mrs. Harry Williams, Jr., chairman of the welfare committee, traced the history of finger-printing, telling of the activities along this line in China 1,000 years ago; coming down to 1901 when England perfected the work; and to 1904 when the United States of America adopted the system. Corporal Clemmens told how finger-prints are now taken of all men in the U. S. Army and Navy, and of all civil service workers. He mentioned the fact that the field of advancement is very great, with insurance and banking firms using the system more extensively.

The short business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank Whitman, who also read the "American Creed." Club members sang numbers.

On November 20th, at an open forum, two sessions will be held. In the morning Mrs. Thomas R. Jones will be in charge, with Charles Love, a columnist for a Philadelphia newspaper, speaking on "Homing Pigeons." A WORTHY APPEAL

Tomorrow is Red Cross Sunday throughout the Nation when an appeal for generous public support to the annual Red Cross Roll Call will be made from pulpits of all denominations.

Here in the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter, which includes Bucks, Chester, Delaware and Montgomery and Philadelphia counties, the clergy of all faiths will stress the emergency needs of the Red Cross this year. At least $500,000 must be raised through memberships and special gifts during the Roll Call which begins Armistice day to enable the Local Chapter and its sixty branches to adequately carry on its work for National Defense, Local Defense and Community Services throughout 1942.

It is the duty as well as the privilege of every American to join the Red Cross this year and to support its work as generously as possible. Dollar memberships alone cannot supply sufficient funds to meet today's emergency demands on our Red Cross. I therefore urge more generous-than-ever support this year.

When a neighborhood volunteer Roll Call worker calls on you, won't you try to double your last year's membership or gift. Enroll every member of your family in the Red Cross as another step towards National Defense.

NOT SO BRIGHT CARS

Probably the general effect of the order by the OPM banning the use of brightwork on automobiles rolling off the assembly lines after December 15 will be a depressing one for the automobile industry insofar as it will deprive it of one of its major selling points—automobile attractiveness. The OPM considers that "what the future automobile will look like with elimination of brightwork will depend upon the resourcefulness of the manufacturer."

Chrome, nickel and aluminum are the metals which will be denied to the automobile industry under the new order. The OPM takes cognizance of the fact that the manufacture of brightwork parts and accessories of automobiles is a very sizable industry, and of the incidental business losses and employment dislocation consequent to the official curtailment of standard materials.

The OPM's labor division advises that it is looking into this stricture with a view to transferring workers to defense jobs, as well as to giving special consideration to manufacturers thus involved in the allocation of defense contracts. Certainly, the exigencies of the situation make that official responsibility very clear.

Broadly considered, it is to be hoped that the government will at all times take care to assure the economic stability of the automobile industry in its entirety—with defense production co-operation—for the stability of this industry is integral with the economic life of the nation and thus of itself vital to defense.

The public may console itself with the reflection that American automobiles, whether bright or drab, are still the world's best, and as long as they can be had in adequate numbers, American motorists are better favored than the rest of the peoples of the world. Only in the United States is the automobile no longer a luxury.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Thrilling action of American defense preparedness is adroitly woven into "Down in San Diego," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which opens today at the Grand Theatre.

With a cast of talented young players directed by Robert B. Sinclair, the story concerns a group of youngsters who become involved accidentally with a spy ring in San Diego.

"Navy Blues," a story of reckless goths and gorgeous gals frolicking on and off a battleship in Hawaii, and starring Ann Sheridan, Jack Oakie, Martha Raye and Jack Haley, will start at the Grand Theatre here Sunday.

BRISTOL THEATRE

Universally hailed as the greatest grid star of them all, husky Tom Harmon, swivel-hipped football idol of America, punts and passes his way into the Bristol Theatre in "Harm of Michigan." Ably supported by such football greats as Forest Evashevski, also of Michigan, Nick Lukats, of Notre Dame, Ambrose Schindler, of U. S. C., and many others, Harmon is said to provide even more thrills on the screen than he ever brought to the playing field.

"Pals of the Pecos" is also shown. Charles Starrett will appear in a feature, "Sons of Steel," at the Sunday matinee only.

RITZ THEATRE

If you're looking for an adventure film—chock-full of thrills and suspense—you'll do well to take in "Man Hunt," at the Ritz Theatre.

Boasting a strong cast headed by stars Walter Pidgeon and Joan Bennett, the picture based on the novel, "Rogue Male" by Geoffrey Household, packs a terrific wallop. Every inch of film is fraught with gripping drama.

a ceiling is put over wages and food costs. Canada's experience and example present the most recent and concrete proof of this. In the second place, it would be good politics. Here is a chance for the Republicans to reveal the Administration's economic incompetency and score heavily against Mr. Roosevelt as quavering, until and unless forced, to make any real stand against the labor and farm lobbies—no matter how costly his failure to do so may be.

INSTEAD, the Republicans deliberately cast aside their opportunity. Apparently, they are bent upon openly exhibiting their own trucking to these bullying special interests rather than upon indicting the trucking of the Administration. One result is that they have gone so far in the wrong direction that the former lobby leaders themselves are afraid of the reaction and the President is given the opening, which he promptly seizes, to urge restraint upon the very forces he has encouraged to be unrestrained. Partially, at least, the Republican course will relieve the President and his Price Administration of the blame justly laid upon them for supine acquiescence in labor-farmer dictation. Also, it seems likely to insure the passage of an utterly inadequate bill, which will not keep prices down nor avert inflation.

THE Republican attitude is bad from the standpoint of party politics, and it is worse from the standpoint of the national interests, which are much more important. From the first angle it is particularly stupid. For the Republicans should have learned by this time they can't beat Mr. Roosevelt at this farmer-labor game, no matter how high they bid nor how far they go. If Mr. Willkie, the titular Republican leader, were as forceful in pointing the way on domestic issues as he has been on foreign policy, he might prevent his party in Congress from making this kind of mistake. But their clear purpose seems to have escaped his attention.

HERE they would have been on sound ground. It is indisputably true that our foreign policy cannot be effective if our domestic affairs are botched. Administration incompetency in handling the latter has made the dangers from the inside as great as those from the outside. That would have been an unassailable position for the Republicans. It would have paid good political dividends and been patriotic at the same time. In fact, an ideal position. But did they take it? They did not. In the main, they have gone in the opposite direction—pulling back on the foreign policy and now co-operating to make the domestic situation worse.

IT is but fair to say that in both House and Senate there are a number of Republicans who, as individuals, stand out in strong contrast to their party associates. It is a pity there are not more of them.

NEWTOWN TAKES "LITTLE FOUR" LEAD BY SINKING FALLSINGTON HIGH SCHOOL XI ON THE GRID BATTLEFRONT

Bristol plays its biggest game of the year here today, against Burlington. Langhorne entertains the New Jersey Institute for the Deaf team, at Langhorne.

At Bensalem, the Bryn Athyn Academy team ran roughshod over the Owls to hang up a 26 to 0 verdict. The Cherry and White overpowered the local team by rolling up a 20 to 0 half time lead.

At Dunn Field, in Trenton, Morrisville High School tumbled Trenton Catholic from the unbeaten ranks by turning in a 14 to 0 upset win. McAllister scored both touchdowns, Morrisville, after staving Catholic off on two goal line stands inside their own ten-yard line in the first quarter, caught fire in the second half to win the game.

By Jack Gill

Newtown High School took undisputed leadership of the "Little Four" conference yesterday afternoon by scoring a clean cut triumph over challenging Fallsington at Pickering Field. Clarence Pidcock and power driving Bob Daffer ran the big Blue to a 12 to 0 win.

Both teams were tied for the top before Friday's fust. The fray was a typical small school fight with Fallsington hanging on till late in the game. Although Pidcock and Daffer led the Indians, Al Monti and Joe Napoli paced the Orange. Defensively, Newtown's rugged guard, Larry Fischer, and Fallsington's center, Bob Thompson, starred throughout the contest.

Clarence Pidcock, who for two years has been a great small school back, rightfully deserves that recognition. Noted mainly for his passing, he didn't have to pitch yesterday. The good natured Newtown back, instrumental in running the ball up and down the terrain, lets Bob Daffer, a power-driving back, scamper off tackle for the scores. Daffer tallied both six-pointers against the Falcons.

Monti opened the second quarter by booting to the 20 yard line. Pidcock then found a wide opening in the Fallsington line and went twenty yards to the 40. In two tries, Johnson and Daffer advanced it to the 30 and another first down. Then followed two completed passes from Pidcock to Johnson to the 20 yard stripe. Short line thrusts placed it on the 12, from where Pidcock skirted end to the 3. Daffer smashed his way in fighting fashion off-tackle to shoot Newtown into a 6-0 advantage.

Late in the third quarter Newtown capitalized on a fumble to recover the ball and march unrestrained for a 65 yard touchdown. Tearing the line to shreds, Pidcock and Daffer led the drive, with Daffer going over from the two yard line.

Fallsington, making its biggest bid of the year, was hampered by faulty ball handling. With elusive Joe Napoli breaking loose around end often, the Falcons were a threatening unit. But in the second half Newtown, using its tremendous weight advantage to good use, ripped the small Orange line asunder.
